

BULGARS DEFEATED BY SERBIAN ARMY

Six Desperate Attacks on Allied Wing in Macedonia Beaten Back.

of the Struma, and fifty miles north-east of the allied camp at Salonika. Evidently the Bulgars have seized almost all of northeastern Greece. It is not known whether they have occupied Drama and Kavala, east of Orfano.

In this advance the Bulgars attacked and captured another Greek fort, killing the commander and the entire garrison, according to a Salonika dispatch to the Matin. The fort was that of Starla, and its garrison was commanded by an officer named Changas, determined to fight to the last to prevent the Bulgars taking it. Every Greek died fighting, the dispatch says.

Such acts as these by the invading Bulgars, particularly as compared with the conduct of the allied troops at Salonika, have stirred the anger of the Greek people to fever heat. There is a strong popular demand for war upon Bulgaria, which is voiced in many mass meetings as well as by those who are raising volunteers to fight the Bulgars.

Greeks Cheer Venizelos.

A large popular meeting was held in Salonika last night to protest against a single Bulgarian soldier being permitted to stand upon Greek soil. The Greeks made a great demonstration for former premier Venizelos. The crowd then marched through the streets singing the Greek national anthem and cheering for Greece and the allies.

The march ended at the headquarters of General Sarrafi, commander of the allied troops in the Balkans. There General Sarrafi was cheered and the big crowd pressed before his headquarters singing the Marseillaise. A formal protest against Bulgarian occupation of Greek territory was drawn up and left with the prefect of police.

Dispatches from Athens say that King Constantine is much concerned about this popular feeling that the meeting may end in a demonstration against his course. Counter demonstrations of the Germanophile element may be organized.

Dispatches from Athens quote the Patria as saying that the allied powers are dissatisfied with King Constantine's attitude because of the situation created by Bulgaria. The allied foreign offices are exchanging views with regard to the attitude to be taken toward Greece and are likely to ask more than demobilization of the army.

GERMANS FAIL TO CHECK SOMME DRIVE

Haig's Men Force Way Closer to Thiepval.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Desperate attempts by the Germans have failed not only to regain ground lost to the allies, but to check the steady advance of the British.

The doom of Thiepval seems sealed. By a series of quick, sharp rushes Haig's men have forced their way across a tangled web of trenches and the very outskirts of the village on three sides.

The Germans made furious efforts to save Thiepval as the British drove their line within 300 yards from the southeastern edge of this important position in the German second system. The German generals opened a counter-attack, using the French line as a base for an intense bombardment.

The battle around the Moquet farm is still in progress.

The determination of German counter-strokes emphasizes the importance the Germans attach to the positions before Thiepval and the importance of the line they have concentrated enormous numbers of guns, but the British push forward steadily.

In the last two days the allies have taken 1,150 prisoners, and, in addition, a quantity of booty fell to the French at Maurepas. In itself, is an indication that the allied troops on the Somme have scored important successes. If the progress is slow, nevertheless, it is sure.

The French bombardment now continues southward from the Somme to the Aisne, growing in fury along the whole line. The constant shelling of the German line may be the forerunner of a new attack. It gives the lie to German talk that the "allied offensive in Picardy has been broken."

CZAR OPENS ROAD TO PLAINS OF HUNGARY

Carpathian Advance Now Reaches Bystritsa Rivers.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—While the Russian drive for Kovel and Lemberg has not been resumed—for what reason Petrograd gives no hint—the Czar's troops continue to push steadily forward in the foothills of the Carpathians.

Striking west of the Jablonitsa Pass, which they now control, the Russians seized the village of Guta and reached the sources of the two Bystritsa rivers. These gains were made in the sector bordering on the Panter pass. Continuation of the advance here will give the Czar's troops another road into Hungary.

$1,500 TWICE STOLEN WITHIN FEW HOURS

Cleaner Took It From Stove. Stranger From Tub.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Owing to a difference of opinion as to whether money taken from a neighbor's stove in money found or money stolen, Mrs. Annie Wadler is locked up.

Mrs. Wadler, greatly surprised at her arrest, told the police that when she was cleaning Mrs. Rachel Linderman's kitchen, she found $1,500 in a lot of rag in the stove.

She thought Mrs. Linderman was foolish to throw her money away like that and took it to a house across the street. Borrowing the key to a vacant apartment from the janitor, she hid the roll of bills under the bathtub.

Mrs. Linderman, who had her cleaning woman arrested for grand larceny, said that she always kept her money in the stove and Mrs. Wadler had known it.

Girls Give Guardsmen Cherries and Write

ALEXANDRIA, Ind., Aug. 27.—Hundreds of letters and about 500 postal cards have been mailed this week by Alexandria girls to members of Company F, Second Maine Infantry, at Ardoo, Tex.

The acquaintance began when about fifty girls who heard the Maine troops were coming through Alexandria, went to the railroad station with baskets of cherries for the soldiers.

The soldiers accepted the fruit and got the addresses of the girls.

MUNITION WORKER BUYS $440 BEDS

Britisher Puts Costly Twin Sleeping Couches in His Five-Dollar-a-Month House.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The government's thrift campaign has a long way to go according to a report received today of a munition worker's $440 twin beds now occupying his $5 a month cottage in a northern manufacturing city.

The munitioner appeared in the show-rooms of an extensive furniture house several days ago and inquired for a "soft, elegant double bed." He sat on several and laid on others but none suited. Then he spied a set of twin beds manufactured for exhibition purposes.

"What about them," he inquired of the clerk.

Before the clerk answered he conferred with a fellow clerk about the advisability of throwing the costly, overvalued, munition worker out. His advice prevailed and the clerk employed diplomacy.

"Those beds cost you eighty-four guineas" (about $440), the clerk grandiloquently announced.

"I take 'em," the munitioner said. He paid for the beds with ready bank notes, and within a few hours they had been set up in his cottage near the works.

NORMAN PRINCE HITS ANOTHER AEROPLANE

American Aviator With French Wings German Flier.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—A. C. Lane, correspondent with the French flying corps, writing yesterday, says that Norman Prince, of the American squadron, brought down a German aeroplane that morning. It fell so far behind the German lines that no French observation officer could see it clearly, and it could not be recorded officially.

Chouteau C. Johnson, a New Yorker, son of D. D. Johnson, of St. Louis, who only recently joined the American aviation squadron at the front, attacked another German machine. He got into an excellent position without the German aviator or observer seeing him when the released spring of his machine gun broke and he was unable to attack.

TURKISH CAUCASUS ARMY THREATENED

Grand Duke Nicholas, With Huge Force, Advancing.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Grand Duke's new campaign in the Caucasus is unchecked. Having turned the Turks' left wing, the Russian forces are again advancing west of Erzurum toward Sivas, and in the Lake Van district, where Bitlis is their immediate objective.

With Mush in their possession, the Russians have advanced to a ridge beyond the Turkish forces, and are again advancing west of Erzurum toward Sivas, and in the Lake Van district, where Bitlis is their immediate objective.

WOODEN LEG KEEPS HIM OUT OF GUARD

Militia Recruiters Expend Eloquence Without Result—Are Now Picking Men.

EAGLE PASS, TEX., Aug. 27.—The First, Fourth, and Fifth regiments of Maryland infantry, together with a battery of the Third Field Artillery and a troop of cavalry, won a strategic battle which ended last night.

The Maryland troops were preparing to meet the enemy and if possible wipe the opposing troops from the face of the earth, but when the enemy was sighted by the advance guard, Troop A, cavalry, word was sent to General Gathers, who immediately summoned his staff and rode to the front to look at the opposing force and calculate their number.

Eventually the calculations of the general and his staff officers proved that it would be foolish to engage the enemy, and the next best thing was done, a retreat ordered.

And such was the orderliness and effectiveness of the retreat that the opposing forces were unable to come within dangerous rifle range, and the artillery of the enemy was too slow in unlimbering their field pieces to create any damage among the ranks of the retreating Marylanders.

The men and officers of the Maryland brigade are radiant over the success of their strategic defeat of the enemy. They are looking forward to similar maneuvers in the near future, after they are "re-ated up" from this last one.

Field maneuvers for the Maryland troops and the militia camped near Eagle Pass will continue during the week. The long hikes and practice marches have toughened the men and they have ceased to mind the forced marches in the battle maneuvers.

Maryland troops will go to the rifle range by the latter part of the week. It is thought they will live in the small shelter tents while at the range. They expect to remain on the range for a week or more.
